

PortfolioView

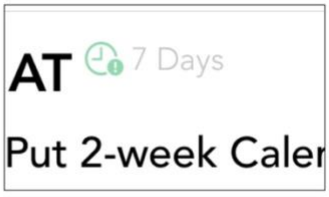

Expand Cell to view legs

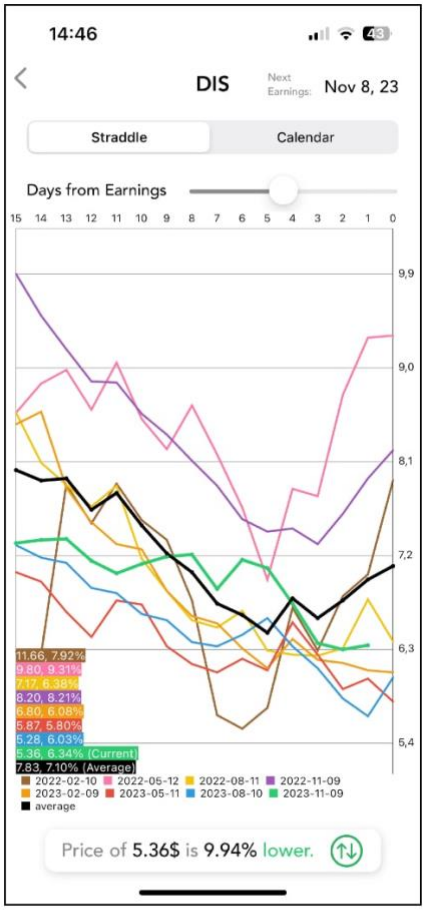

Manage your spread name

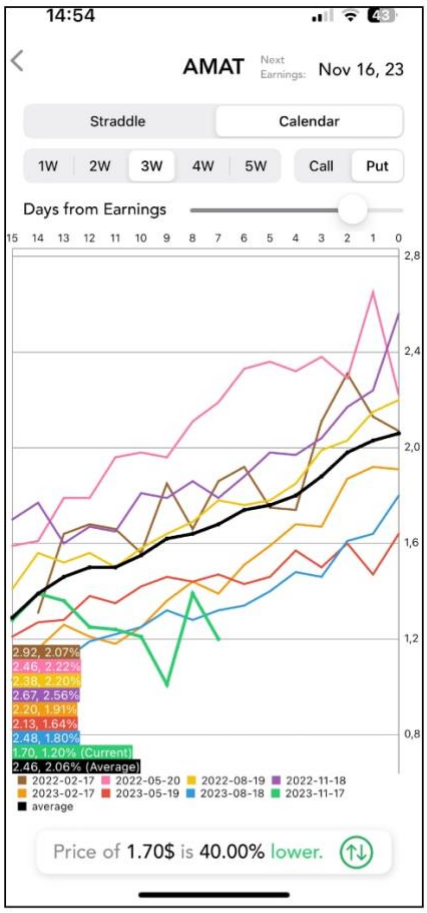

Swipe to Close Entire Spread at once

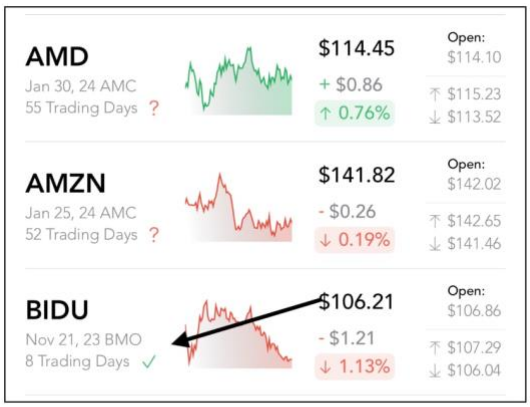

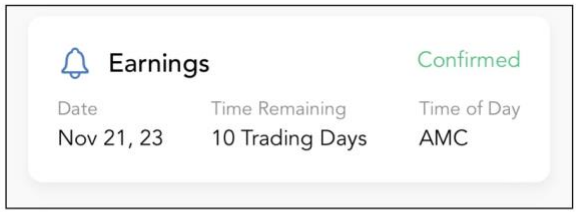

Stay updated on the number of trading days till earnings.

Backtest your earnings Calendar or Straddle and directly trade them.

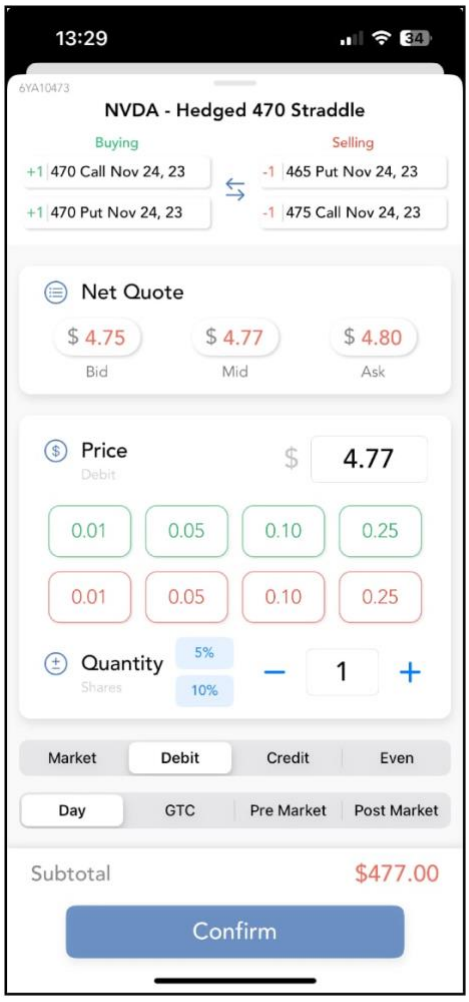

Given the significance of earnings information for Steady Options Strategies, it is prominently displayed in various sections of the app for easy access and reference.

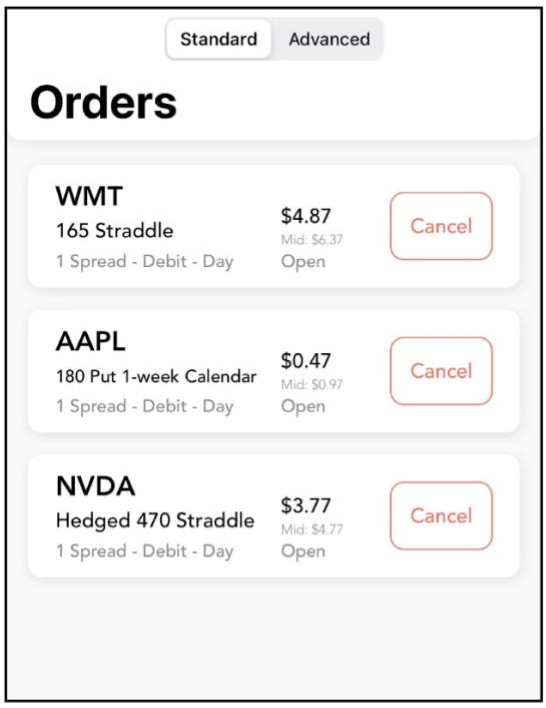

Build any spread from the option chain builder.

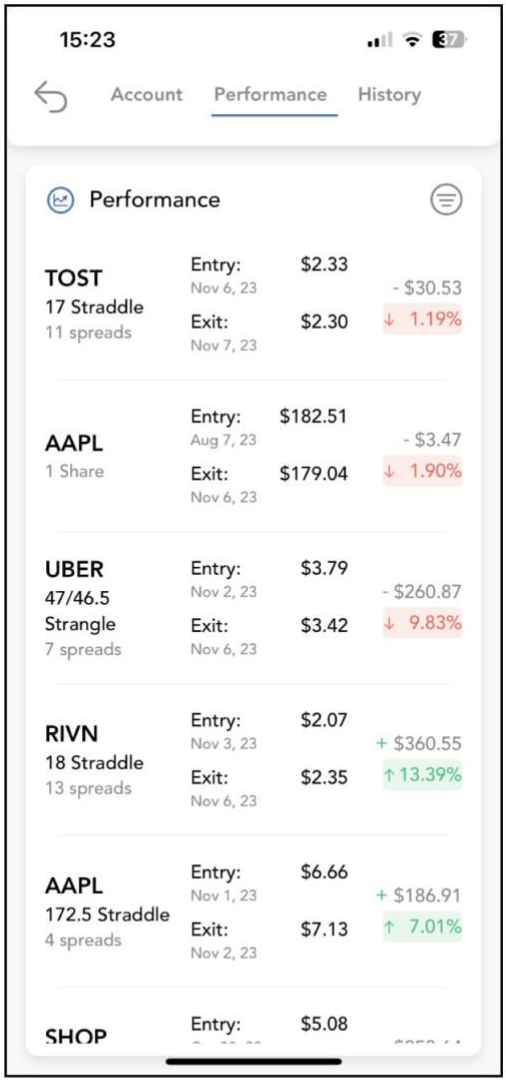

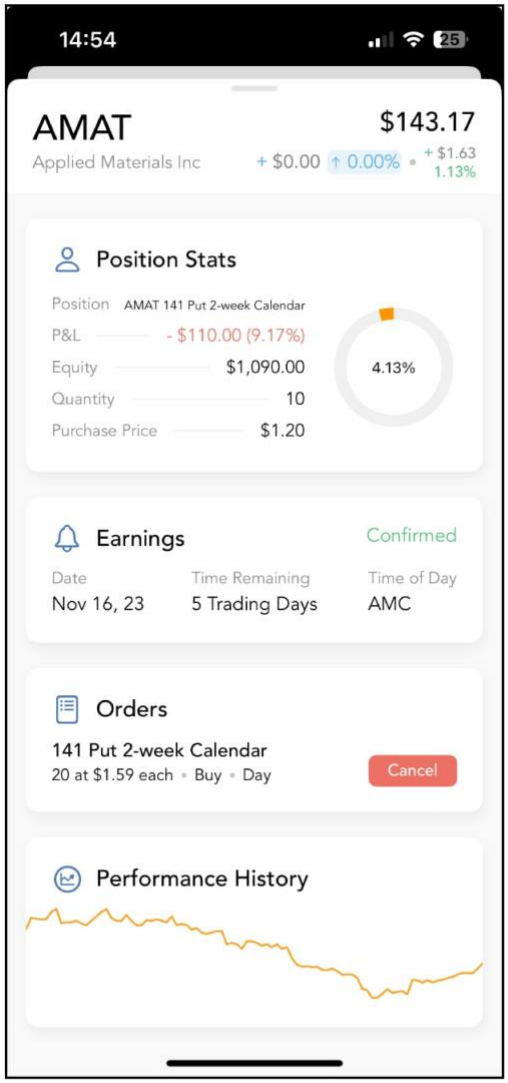

When earnings are confirmed, a clock icon appears beside the first option expiration after the announcement. This helps you quickly choose the right expiration for your Steady Options strategy.

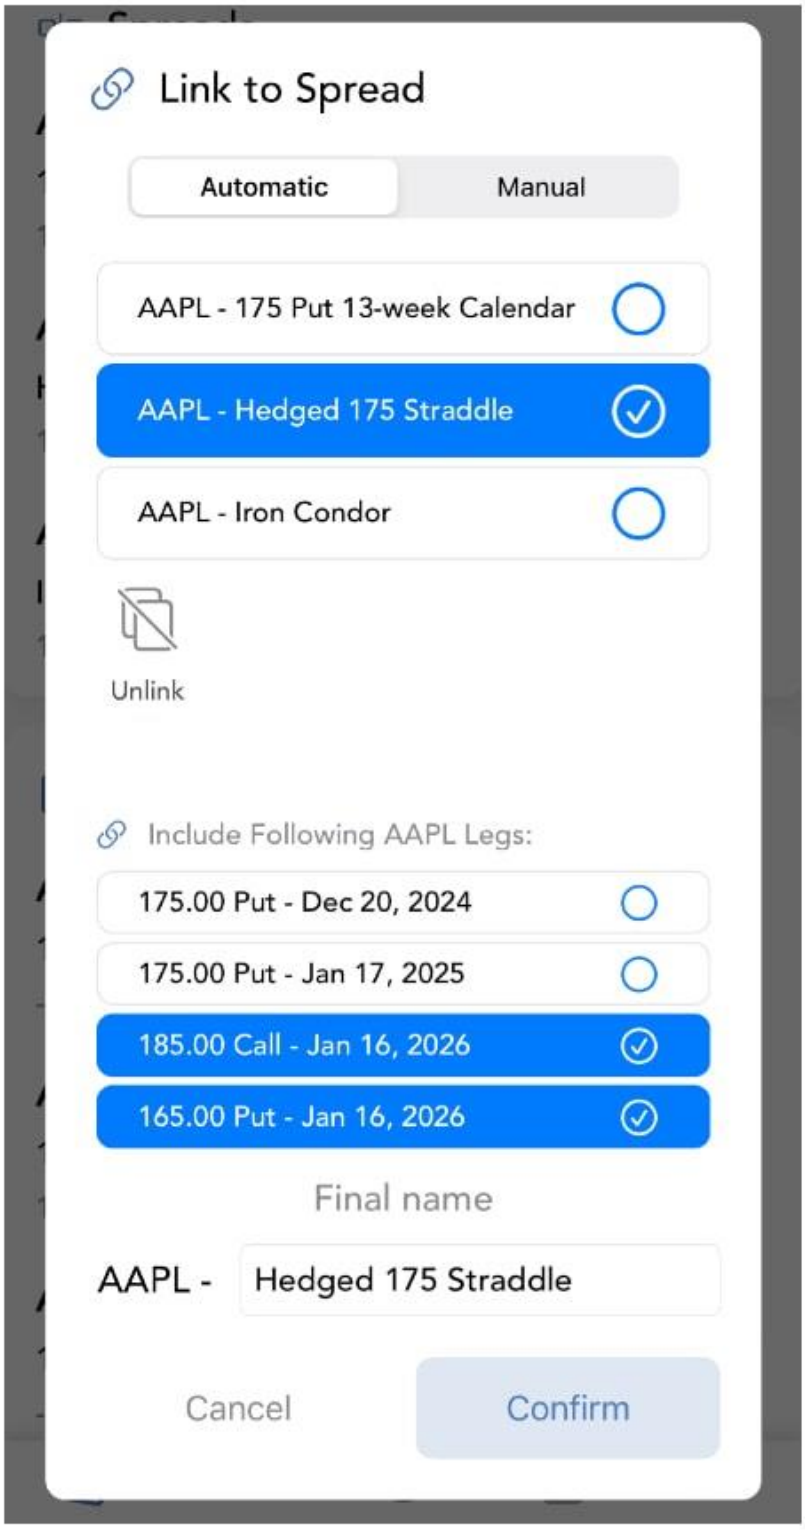

Your orders are labeled with your spread names and optimized for quickly executing orders.

Simply tap on a position to view its current details, and access your portfolio info page for a comprehensive view of past performance.

You have the flexibility to manually or automatically re-adjust your spreads and single legs on the spread management page at any time.